COMMITTEE ENDS STATION INQUIRY

Fixes Next Monday Night to Prepare Report to Council.

COAST LINE DENIES CHARGE

Says Fear That It Will Neglect This Point Is Absurd.

As far as the Special Joint Committee on Union Station is concerned, the Council inquiry into the merits of the plan for establishing in Richmond a passenger station to be used jointly by all the roads, is at an end. The committee held its last public hearing last night and adjourned after less than an hour of discussion, to meet again at 8 o'clock next Monday night for the purpose of drafting a report to be submitted to the Council.

The committee early showed its disposition to eliminate from the hearing arguments which have been brought forward for and against the establishment of a station at the downtown site, and to concentrate on the merits of the plan for establishing in Richmond a passenger station to be used jointly by all the roads, is at an end. The committee held its last public hearing last night and adjourned after less than an hour of discussion, to meet again at 8 o'clock next Monday night for the purpose of drafting a report to be submitted to the Council.

President William G. White, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, read a letter and telegram from H. Walters, chairman of the board of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, denying an absurd and without foundation the fears entertained in some quarters that the Coast Line should the West End station in building a large passenger station on the Hermitage site and neglect it as an important point on its lines.

The only thing that could cause the Coast Line to neglect the West End station, Mr. Walters would be for the city to force it to abandon its present easy 5 of 1 per cent grade and adopt the 1.5 per cent grade that would be required for a station on the Hermitage site.

Mr. Walters declared that the Atlantic Coast Line was committed to the West End station as the best solution of the city's traffic problem from the standpoint of the public and that of the road. He will recommend to the directors of his company, he wrote, that it join the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac in building a large passenger station on the Hermitage site.

Message From St. Louis.

Mr. White read a letter from the Mayor of St. Louis, Mo., that has the largest union station in the world—in reply to a letter addressed to him by W. D. Duke asking for his views on the benefits of a union station for a large city. The Mayor of St. Louis wrote that in his opinion separate stations served better to build up a city, and were from the standpoint of the business men of the city, more advantageous than a single station.

Competitive plans for the proposed station at the Hermitage site, Mr. White reported, have already been submitted to his company. Under the rules of the competition, descriptions and specifications cannot be made public until the winning design is decided upon. Mr. White assured the committee that the designs submitted provide for a station which will be an ornament to the city and which will cost exclusive of the site $600,000.

Funeral of Brilliant Theologian From Union Seminary To-Morrow Morning.

HAD FINE WAR RECORD

Was Chairman of Washington and Lee University Board and Ripe Scholar.

The funeral of the Rev. Givens Brown Strickler, D. D., LL. D., theologian, scholar and Confederate veteran, who died Monday night in an Atlanta sanatorium after a long illness, will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the chapel of Union Theological Seminary. The services will be conducted by his associates in the faculty of the seminary, assisted by members of the seminary choir.

The active pallbearers will be James W. Gordon, Lucien Curry, J. C. Storey, M. M. Grey, A. B. Montgomery, P. T. Allen, A. S. Maxwell and E. J. Hertig.

The body lay in state yesterday morning in the Central Presbyterian Church, in Atlanta, of which Dr. Strickler was formerly pastor, and was taken aboard a train in the afternoon for Richmond by members of his family. The funeral cortege will reach the city this afternoon at 5:05 o'clock on the Seaboard Air Line Railway. The body will immediately be removed to Watts Chapel, at the Union Theological Seminary.

Taken Ill in June.

Dr. Strickler was taken ill in Laurens, S. C., where he stopped over on his way home from a meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly in Atlanta to visit his daughter, Mrs. C. F. Rankin, about June 1. He was critically ill for several days and then recovering slightly, was removed to the Atlanta Hospital, where physicians never held out hope for his complete recovery after he was stricken in Laurens.

He married Miss Mary F. Moore, of Fincley Hill, in 1871. She died in Richmond on June 25, 1905. Five children were born to the couple. Of these, one daughter is the wife of Dr. George H. Denny, formerly president of Washington and Lee University and now head of the University of Alabama. The other children are Dr. Cyrus Strickler, a physician, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. G. L. Rankin, of Oklahoma; Mrs. C. F. Rankin, of Laurens, S. C.; and Miss Mary Strickler, of Richmond.

At the time of his death, Dr. Strickler was professor of theology in Union Theological Seminary, rector of Washington and Lee University, and chairman of its board of trustees. During his active ministry and work in the seminary he had sat in every court of the Presbyterian Church. He was regarded as a master of clear logic, a finished speaker, and no man stood higher in the councils of his denomination.

In 1878 he received the honor of degree of Doctor of Divinity from Washington and Lee University. He published one book of sermons, which was well received.

Brilliant Soldier.

His career in the army of the Confederate States and his war record are no less brilliant than his accomplishments in his profession. At the age of twenty-one, while a student at Washington College, he enlisted in the Confederate army as a member of the Liberty Hall Volunteers, which took its name from the volunteers which Liberty Hall Academy, the forerunner of Washington College, had sent into the Revolutionary army. This command became Company I, Fourth Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade, and Dr. Strickler soon rose to the rank of captain. He was commanding a company at the close of the war. By a peculiar coincidence, he was taken prisoner at the battle of Gettysburg in company with Judge John A. Buchanan, of the State Supreme Court of Appeals. He was wounded three times during the war.

Givens Brown Strickler was born at Strickler Springs, Rockbridge County, on April 25, 1849, the son of Joseph Strickler and Mary Strickler. He was a student at Washington and Lee University in 1868, and at the Union Theological Seminary in 1868-1870. He was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church in 1870, serving as pastor of the Tinkling Spring Presbyterian Church, Augusta County, from 1870 to 1883, and then as pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, of Atlanta, from 1883 to 1896. He accepted the chair of systematic theology in Union Seminary in 1896 and occupied that post with distinction until his death.

Miller, Jr., of the First National; President O. J. Sands, of the American National; Vice-President H. H. Smith, of the Planters National, and Cashier Thomas B. McAdams, of the Merchants National.

The appointments were made in response to an invitation issued by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to large cities in the agricultural regions of the South, Middle West and Pacific Coast, to come to Washington and confer with the Treasury Department regarding the distribution of the $50,000,000 of government funds about to be deposited in the national banks of those sections to facilitate the marketing and movement of the crops.

WATER FOR FULTON

Board Directs Extension of Twelve-Inch Main to Supply Hill.

The Superintendent of the Water Works was directed by the Administrative Board yesterday to begin at once the work of extending a twelve-inch water main to Fulton Hill. The project was authorized several months ago, but was halted by the refusal of the War Department to grant permission to lay the pipe along the Government Road.

A committee appointed by the Administrative Board went to Washington recently to place the matter before the War Department, and succeeded in securing the desired permission. A letter from the War Department, dated July 2, of the Quartermaster's Corps, yesterday inclosed a revocable contract permitting the city to place the water main along the Government Road from the corner of Brown Street to the corner of Nicholson Street. The new main will supply city water to the Fulton Hill settlement, which has hitherto been without this service.

Postpones Annexation Meeting.

Chairman Powers, of the Special Committee on Annexation, announced last night the postponement of the meeting of that committee scheduled for to-morrow, until 8 o'clock Monday night. The postponement was made necessary because of the fact that two members of the committee will be absent from the city on Thursday and would not have been able to attend.

FALLS FROM CAR; FRACTURES SKULL

E. Cooper, of Highland Park, Badly Hurt When He Loses Balance on Running Board.

E. Cooper, thirty-nine years old, of 129 Northside Avenue, Highland Park, sustained a fractured skull yesterday afternoon when he fell from a Broad and Twenty-fifth Street car at Seventh and Broad Streets. At Grace Hospital last night it was said he was resting quietly, and it was thought he would recover.

Cooper is said to have been standing on the running-board of the car. In one hand he held a package and with the other he clutched a grip. A sudden gust of wind blew his hat off, and when he loosened his grip on the side of the car to catch it, according to witnesses, he lost his balance and fell.

Traffic Officer Hill was the first to reach his side. Dr. M. F. Torregrossa, City Hospital ambulance surgeon, rendered emergency treatment and removed Cooper to the hospital. Examination there showed his skull had been fractured, and it was at first thought his condition was critical, but several hours later, he showed improvement, it was said.

Action of Detinue.

An action of detinue was brought in the Law and Equity Court yesterday by H. L. Matthews against W. O. Knapp, for the possession of an automobile, valued at $2,500.

CALL ALL TO ARMS IN WAR ON TYPHOID

State Health Department Says It Can Eradicate Fever in Virginia.

A call to arms in the relentless war on typhoid fever has been issued by the State Department of Health in the shape of a special bulletin full of instructions how to assist the State in eradicating the summer pestilence. According to the Bulletin, the State Health Department is equipped to do this completely, however, the co-operation and assistance of the individual citizen is needed. Among other things, the board asks that the public read the pamphlets published by the department on the following subjects: typhoid fever and its prevention, farm sanitation, the house fly, good health in summer, bedside directions for the care of typhoid cases, and others.

The State Department of Health, through the generosity of the General Assembly and the support of the public, declares the bulletin, is now equipped with all the known facilities for fighting typhoid fever outbreaks. To make these all-sufficient, the public must do its share. The department now maintains a laboratory for the examination of suspected cases, an epidemiologist for investigating typhoid fever outbreaks, an engineer for sewerage and water supplies, a system of distributing typhoid fever vaccine at cost, and an active public bureau.

The bulletin carries the following list of things the State wants the individual citizen to do to help eradicate typhoid:

1. To learn how typhoid fever is carried and how it can be prevented. To this end, read the literature given by the board.
2. To keep your home sanitary and a supply of pure water so that if typhoid comes, you may be protected. The bulletins will tell you how to do this.
3. To observe to the letter the directions for the care of typhoid fever cases, should the disease appear in your community.
4. To see that your physician reports promptly any case of typhoid that appears in your family.
5. To co-operate with your neighbors in so improving sanitary conditions in the locality that typhoid cannot become seated.

Hal D. Flood Calls Pollard "Liar"; Anything but "Friend" Says Pollard

In answer to the charges made by John Garland Pollard that Henry D. Flood had made a bare-faced lie and that Richmond on Monday in the interest of Judge Williams, Mr. Flood has given out a statement, which Mr. Pollard has answered. The two statements follow:

MR. FLOOD'S STATEMENT.
Appomattox, Va., Aug. 5, 1913.
The Richmond Times-Dispatch, Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen: The statement of John Garland Pollard, published in your issue of this morning, that I visited Richmond yesterday for the purpose of lining up the liquor interests there for Judge Williams for Attorney General, and that I visited barrooms in the city to accomplish this purpose, is a lie out of the whole cloth and was made by Mr. Pollard to be a willful and deliberate lie when he uttered it. He knows he cannot prove a scintilla of evidence to support this cheap lie, which he told at the last hour of his campaign with the hope that it would win him a few votes. This lie is in keeping with the rest of the statements made by Mr. Pollard about me.

Very truly yours,
H. D. FLOOD.

MR. POLLARD'S STATEMENT.

"I do not care what Mr. Flood says concerning me, just so long as he does not call me his friend. His reputation in Virginia is too well known for his opinion of me to affect my reputation in the slightest."

"JOHN GARLAND POLLARD."

STATE OFFICIALS GO HOME TO VOTE

Capitol Swept Clean of Workers on Day of Primary Election.

The Capitol looked as if it had been swept with a broom so denuded was it of State officials yesterday. To a man the State employees, from the Governor to the lowest clerk, were off to do their duty at the polls, although most had to travel a considerable distance to reach their legal residence. Some few representatives of the State officers maintain their residence in their home districts. To register his legal vote Governor Mann left the city late Monday night for his old home in Scottsbluff County. As he has sold his country home and will make his home in Petersburg after the expiration of his term of office, it is probable that his legal residence will be transferred to the Cockade City also. Colonel Ben P. Owen, secretary to the Governor, had only to step across to Chesterfield County to cast his ballot.

The judges of the State Corporation Commission all hold residence out of the State and departed to do their duty as citizens. Judge Windfield went to Albemarle County, Judge Rhea to Bristol and Judge Prentiss to Suffolk. Clerk Richard W. Norton votes in Richmond. Colonel Joseph Patton, Commissioner of Insurance, made a journey to Appomattox to record his vote.

W. D. Saunders, State Food and Dairy Commissioner, maintains his legal residence in Franklin County, and returned there to cast his ballot.

Dr. Meade Ferguson, State Entomologist, had to travel to Charlottesville to take part in the primary.

Colonel B. O. James, Secretary of the Commonwealth, cast his vote in Richmond, as did his chief clerk, James M. Hayes, Jr.

Dr. Ennon G. Williams, State Health Commissioner, and his assistant, Dr. Allen W. Freeman, voted here.

G. W. Kolner, Commissioner of Agriculture, voted in Richmond, while his campaign manager, John Owens, journeyed to Green Bay to cast his ballot.

E. C. Stearns, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Evan R. Chertman, secretary of the State Board of Education, held legal residence in Richmond.
